Art Unit: 3617

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant is requested to update the status of the 09/789846 application cited in the preliminary amendment filed June 24, 2003.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Japanese provisional patent 7-164809.

Japanese '809 discloses a hub assembly comprising a stationary ring, a rotary ring, a plurality of rolling elements, a mounting flange having a plurality of openings, and a plurality of studs. The mounting surface of the flange defines a flat surface 14, and an annular groove 16 (figure 5). Each of the mounting openings 7 is located in the groove. The groove is not concave in shape, but to form the groove to be concave instead square bottomed would have been obvious to those of ordinary skill in the art as the concave groove would be easier to machine into the flange, and either the squarebottomed groove or the concave groove would serve the desired purpose of preventing the press-fitted lug nuts from distorting the flat mounting surface.

The method limitations of processing immediately after heat-treating are given no patentable weight in the article claim.

Information Disclosure Statement

4. The information disclosure statements (IDS) submitted on June 24, 2003 and May 10, 2004 have been considered and placed of record.

Conclusion

5. This is a continuation of applicant's earlier Application No. 09/789846. The claim is drawn to the same invention claimed in the earlier application and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the earlier application. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action in this case. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no, however, event will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
